

Thai Combination Massage

Thai combination massage is a massage integration more than one style or massage modality. It can combine techniques from swedish massage, deep tissue massage, reflexology and trigger point therapy. These combination are used to tailor the massage towards your personal preferences and specific needs.